Gado-Gado Brunch

Location: Katzenwedelwiese, St.Florian-Straße (at the turning point)

☀️☁️: Only with good weather

The Bee Boarding School invites you to a Gado-Gado brunch on the orchard! Gado-Gado is an Indonesian dish featuring a mix of raw or steamed vegetables – such as potatoes, long beans, bean sprouts, or cabbage – tossed in a spicy peanut sauce dressing.

Before enjoying Gado-Gado, Aldizar and Oliver will invite everyone to play with clay. After our playful clay session, we'll sample a honey-tizer – honey being known for its antibacterial properties – and then share a Gado-Gado meal eaten by hand.

Location: Katzenwedelwiese, St.Florian-Straße (at the turning point)

☀️☁️: In case of bad weather, the ceremony will take place at ZKM | Center for Art and Media Karlsruhe

Join us for a Tea Ceremony celebrating the orchard!

Closing the Festival “Media Art is Here”, the Bee Boarding School is offering a Rajah Lebah Honey Tea Ceremony. A Rajah is a type of amulet that uses calligraphy or written symbols – letters, sentences, or signs – as a medium to capture and transmit certain energies. These energies are believed to aid in healing, protection, safety, matchmaking, fortune, warding off bad luck, and more. The “Rajah Lebah” (The Bee Amulet) will be activated during a honey tea ceremony, with a beeswax accompaniment by Edi and Hanna and using herbs from Majalengka and the orchard.

Start location: Info point of ZKM | Center for Art and Media Karlsruhe

☀️☁️: In case of bad weather, the walk will take place inside the ZKM exhibition “Fellow Travellers”

Meet artists Gea and Mira for a performative walk that will take you from ZKM to the Katzenwedelwiese orchard. We start by attuning our senses to our own bodies as well as Karlsruhe’s urban nature. We will go on a playful stroll and move, discover and share. What spaces do we cross, where do we meet each other, and how do we listen? On the orchard, we will finally dive into wellbeing and care, which might take the form of silent resting, an orchard-beauty-mask, chatty conversations, or even collective dreaming...

No experience in movement or performance required, just bring your curiosity!
